

We are seeking exceptional individuals to fulfil the following roles:

Site Based Technicians
Southern, Midlands and Northern Regions

Do you want to join a niche industry where no two days are the same? Do you want to learn new skills in an innovative business? Do you want to see and work in different areas of the Country? Do you like to be part of a team that wants to achieve the best they can?

Can you take instruction and deliver? Do you want a job where you can make a difference through your own efforts? If you don't mind getting your hands dirty and like a challenge then we may have the ideal opportunity for you.

As a Disaster Recovery business we assist our commercial clients by working closely with them to ensure their business is back up and running in the shortest possible time frame, following fire damage or water damage such as flooding to their property. Our primary focus is to attend to the material damage requirements, such as the premises, contents, stock and machinery on which we carry out specialist decontamination and restoration processes.

You will work under the guidance of a Supervisor carrying out specialist work to structures, machinery, electronics, stock and contents.

As a national 24 hour response business, you will need to be flexible and prepared to travel and/or stay away from home from time to time as the work dictates.

Experience in the damage management industry will be a distinct advantage as is a British Damage Management Qualification. A mechanical/electrical, engineering or a construction background or understanding of the built environment would be beneficial as this will aid in the training for the role.

This is a full-time position where a full Driving Licence is preferred or the intention to drive within 12 months.

If you think you have the aptitude, attitude and like to be challenged, then we would love to hear from you.

To apply, please send a copy of your CV and a covering letter detailing which role you would like to apply for to restoration.recruitment@uk.issworld.com.
